Subject: Thanks for your help

Hi Jerry,

Glad to note that, thanks to your efforts, "Waterloo Landing" in northwestern Alabama is now an official certified site on the Trail of Tears National Historic Trail. As I mentioned in our emails in early June, I said that I would be sending the final certification forms to Waterloo Mayor Joan Farneman. She enthusiastically signed the forms, so it's all taken care of.

Thanks very much for all your help with this, Jerry - it's one more step in getting the various Trail of Tears routes and sites protected and interpreted.
